

Premiere of a new play by Nadia Davids

Directed by Yasmin Sidhwa

MANDALA
THEATRE COMPANY

Night Light

- An abandoned factory
- Two teenagers seeking asylum hide out, fearing deportation
- As the cold night unfolds, someone arrives. Someone familiar...
...and dangerous

Join the Mandala debate in your city

supported by www.oxford.gov.uk

Supported using public funding by
ARTS COUNCIL ENGLAND

Night Light

tour schedule

2016

| | |
|-------------------|---|
| 27, 28 September | The Old Rep, Birmingham |
| 29*, 30 September | Pegasus Theatre, Oxford |
| 13* October | Tramshed Theatre, GLYPT, Woolwich, London |
| 22 October* | LV21, Gravesend, Kent |
| 24 October* | Theatre Royal, Bury St. Edmunds, Suffolk |

2017

| | |
|-------------------|-------------------------------|
| 27*, 28 January | Theatre in the Mill, Bradford |
| 1,2*,3,4 February | Tara Arts, Earlsfield, London |
| 10* February | Derby Theatre, Derby |

 includes Mandala post-show debate: 'What happens to unaccompanied children in the UK when they become 18?' with panel of academics, refugees, NGO experts working in the field, local politicians and councillors.*

For more information on Night Light, plus special performances for schools and college, please visit the Mandala website.

Mandala would like to thank the following organisations for their support: Arts Council England, Oxford City Council Culture Fund, on form sculpture, Shakespeare Oxford 2016, SCC Locality Funding (Bury St Edmunds, Suffolk), The Old Rep (Birmingham), Pegasus Theatre (Oxford), GLYPT London, Theatre in the Mill (Bradford), Theatre Royal (Bury St. Edmunds), Tara Arts (London), Derby Theatre.

MANDALA THEATRE COMPANY uses the power of performance to change young lives, build communities and foster social justice.

www.mandalatheatre.co.uk